Registration for First Day Shows Drop in Three Schools

First day registration figures in Albany's three schools took a downward drop this year as school totals for Monday were filed this week in Superintendent of Schools Allen Keim's office.

Expected to open with an increase in registration due to large graduating classes last Spring, Albany High School registered a total of 796 students Monday as against 804 the same day in 1937.

At Cornell School, while the kindergarten took a slight increase, general registration saw 543 students take their places as against last year's 576. Marin School also dropped in student body total with 706 students to 735 in 1937.

Although many students are reported to be on vacation until Labor Day, school department regulations require totals to be fixed as of first day registrations, Keim said this week.

Uniform decrease, Keim said, follows a trend seen throughout the United States in all schools.

Added to Marin School's faculty this year are three new members, Principal Eugene Baker said today. They are: Miss Constance M. James, music; Elmer Venter, physical education and social studies, and Miss Jessica Weyland, art.

In the High School, Principal Charles A. Moore welcomed the following new instructors: Charles Burkard, social science; Mrs. Grace Rhoads, social science and girls' physical education; Miss Brita Bowen, English, and Miss Virginia Roberts, art.

Meantime Principal William G. Woolworth took up his new duties at Cornell School, succeeding Kenneth P. Glines, former principal, who resigned last year to become district superintendent of elementary schools at Mount Shasta. Other new additions to the Cornell teaching staff include: Milton Gordon, physical education; Miss Lucia Staib, art; Miss Billie Bell, music; Miss Ada Bihler, instrumental music; and Miss Ruth Daily, kindergarten.

Announcement was made this week by Superintendent Keim that classes in Parent Education, under Dr. Edith Bryan, will open Thursday morning at 9:30, September 15 at Cornell school, and at Marin school Monday evening, September 20.

With school under way, groundbreaking began this week on the fourth unit of the Albany High School. The new section, to cost nearly $60,000, was recently given a Federal PWA appropriation of $28,350.

T.B. Exams to Start at High School Monday

Dr. J. Floyd Eaton spoke to the students of Albany High School at the first assembly of the term today explaining to students the tuberculin tests and X-ray examinations which are to be offered to students of Albany High School by the Alameda County Tuberculosis and Health Association next week.

These examinations will be given to the students beginning on Monday morning by physicians from the Tuberculosis Association.

Dr. Eaton explained the way tuberculosis is spread and the modern diagnostic methods of detecting the disease and stressed the fact that the school examinations to be given are preventive and health protection measures. Similar examinations, he said, have been given to thousands of students at the high schools of Alameda County and to the students at the University of California.

Preceding Dr. Eaton's talk the Tuberculosis Association's sound motion picture film on tuberculosis entitled "Behind The Shadows" was shown.

Lee Spenser, Albany and Roy De Gier, seeded fifth and eighth went down before lower bracket players in three set battles.

Dropping two outstanding juniors in brilliant style, Stan Hawkins of Albany High School won over Bill Norman, 6-1, 9-11, 6-3, and later pressed through Jack Selsted, 6-3, 6-1, to emerge for second week play.

Other summarized scores for the two days of play were as follows:

Albany to Have Own Chest Organization

City to Become Separate Community Chest District; Committee Will Name Leader; Set Quota

With Albany directing its own campaign, plans were under way this week for the annual Community Chest drive, following a meeting Tuesday night at the Marin School at which representatives from all civic and service organizations of the city were present.

Meeting as around-table discussion group, Albany citizens interested in the drive met with members of the Berkeley Chest headquarters to hear commendations on Albany's work in past years, and the decision that Albany will supervise its own drive and not work as a direct unit of the Berkeley headquarters as in past years.

The move to make Albany a unit by itself was brought about by Dr. Monroe E. Deutsch, President of the Albany-Berkeley Chest who pointed out that Albany receives nearly twice as much service from the Chest as it contributes each year, since nearly every agency of the Chest has projects under way in the city.

Previously, Albany has been a part of the Berkeley residential district in Chest campaigns, but will become a separate division this year with a campaign general to supervise the drive.

Named as a committee to select a general were Mrs. Beatrice Raymond, Harry I. Dygert, Charles F. Graeber, Mrs. F. E. Pierson, William DePuy. The committee will also set the quota for the year.

Among speakers of the evening were Dr. Deutsch, vice president of the California Community Chest, and President of the Albany-Berkeley Chest; Henry W. Beekman, campaign chairman, Mrs. S. M. Marks, past president of the Albany-Berkeley organization; and Robert R. Porter, Executive Secretary.

Organizations represented were the Albany P.T.A. and Dads' Clubs of the three Albany schools, Boy Scouts, Y.M.C.A., Legion and Veterans' Auxiliaries and civic and service clubs.

The cachet design, selected by a committee composed of Ed Morris, chairman; Mrs. Beatrice Raymond, Lloyd C. Hare, will be a composite illustration of the new Post Office building with a background of Albany residences. Also contained in the envelopes will be signatures of Postmaster Whiting, Mrs. Raymond and Mayor O. C. Yenne.

Possibility of development of the Albany Bay Shore line for industrial purposes was seen this week when the Albany City Council gave permission to City Manager Hollis R. Thompson of Berkeley to enter an agreement with the Waterfront Company who asked that they be permitted to negotiate for the development of land bordering on the East Shore Highway.

A subsidiary of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company, the Waterfront Company, owner of a large portion of the tidelands between Emeryville and Richmond, is said to be negotiating for the development of more than 165 acres of its Albany properties.

According to the plan revealed this week, the company proposes to fill in the marsh land between Fleming Point and the East Shore Highway to an approximate 10-foot elevation above low tide in preparation for industrial development.

Included in the plan will be the re-channelment of Codornices Creek which empties into the marsh land, as well as extension of the Buchanan Street sewer. Codornices Creek will be diverted in a westerly direction to just west of the East Shore Highway and into a channel not less than 10 feet wide.

Salaries for the Police Department, according to Mayor Yenne, will remain unchanged.

Hans Kampfer To Meet Jack Washburn Fri.

Hans Kampfer, powerful German star, makes his way into the main event class, Friday night on Promoter Ad Santel's all-star card at the Oakland auditorium.

Jack Washburn, the Boston gentleman, will furnish Kampfer with opposition, in the two hour, three fall struggle.

Kampfer claims he'd rather wrestle then eat.

"I like to wrestle big, bad boys," remarked the German star. "I get a great pleasure in knocking their ears down."

Few grunt and groan artists in the business today are as powerful as Kampfer. Hans started his wrestling career in high school. In 1921 while still a student in prep school, Kampfer won the amateur heavyweight title of Germany. After finishing high school, the German entered engineering college at Leipzig, where he gained the European amateur championship.

He was master of all amateur wrestlers in Europe in 1925. He continued his wrestling after leaving college. Part time work on a beer truck also helped Kampfer develop his powerful muscles. Five times the German star has fallen before champions, which by the way isn't a crime.

Washburn may be called a "gentleman," but once in the ring he's somewhat of a wildman. Foul blows are Washburn's main weapon of warfare.

The semi-final match brings together, Terry (Gable) McGinnis of Ohio, and Marvin Westenberg of Long Beach. Promoter Santel has scheduled the pair to clash over the thirty-minute, one-fall route.

Al Sparks of Chicago, faces Jack Donovan of New York, in a thirty-minute one-fall contest.

Ted Key, Los Angeles' own, clashes with Rusty Westcoat of Hollywood, thirty-minutes, one-fall.

Tommy O'Toole of Denver, meets Alex Kasaboski of Detroit in the thirty-minute, one-fall opener.

Linoleum block cut shown above is an example of the type of art work now in progress at the Albany Recreational Center. Sponsored by the Federal Government, children are taught the art of drawing and cutting out linoleum blocks as well as the drawing and painting of wood novelties. A display of the work may be seen in the window of the Albany Times.

A full schedule of recreational activities are in store for Albany children and adults during the fall months, according to heads of the Albany Recreation Department and its Federal Recreation Project.

Special activities at the parks and playgrounds, new classes in arts and crafts, special major, junior and senior tournaments, improved facilities, instruction in the techniques of different sports and many other features are all inserted into the department's 1938 fall schedule.

Archery, as a sport the average man can afford and enjoy, has carved an important niche in the recreational program of Albany. A special class in the making of archery equipment, such as bows, arrows and other paraphernalia connected with the sport, will be held in the handcraft room of the Recreation Center, 850 Masonic Avenue, starting Monday afternoon, August 29, from 3-5. Trueman Farnsworth, archery expert of the department will act as instructor.

James Larsson, in charge of the archery range, reports that the attendance at the range has steadily increased to the point where the seven targets have proved inadequate and at least eight additional targets will have to be added. With the addition of the new equipment the Albany range will be rated as one of the best municipal ranges in California.

Shooting on the Albany range is held on Wednesdays and Fridays from 1:00 p. m. until 7:00 and on Saturdays and Sundays from 9:00 a. m. until 7:00 p. m. The facilities of the

AT ALBANY HIGH SCHOOL

A column conducted by students of the journalism classes of Albany High School.

Starting at 7:45 Monday morning, Albany residents unfortunately blessed with living within striking distance of the high school, were awakened from their dreams by the passing "clomps" of leather shoes upon the sidewalks. Yes! The commotion began in real style Monday as the smiling and happy students journeyed back to school.

With the "baying" of the old school horn, approximately 800 school students — many are still on their vacations — returned to their classes for the first time since summer vacation. There are the usual threats from students eluctant about returning to school, but the majority of the students were quite willing to get back into the old grind.

Four class advisories came back to find themselves under the jurisdiction of new teachers. The four new teachers are: Mrs. Rhodes and Mr. Burkard, Social Science, Miss Roberts, drawing and Miss Bowen, English and Public Speaking.

To add to the confusion, the work on the new addition to the High School began about the time school commenced.

Tuesday morning the new Student body officers — forming the Board of Control — met for the first time this semester. The new student body officers are as follows: President, George Vila; Vice-President, Vincensina Di Biasi; Secretary, Marcella McClellan; Treasurer, Shirley O'Neil; Boys Commissioner, Cleveland Hickman; Girls Commissioner, Marjorie Meredith; Boys Representative-at-large, Richard Ruiz; 2nd Vice-President, Mary Jane Brotzman; Girls Representative-at-large, Wanda Medina; Publicity Director, Bud Fletcher.

The first order of business was organization of a Student Body Card drive, which will begin Monday. Then the Board of Control elected the Student Court. The six new members of the court for the fall term are as follows: Teresa De Monte, Virginia Madrid, Joan Pemberton, Joel Guay, Charles Ness, Bill Thelacker.

The Board of control closed with voting $100 to be used for football equipment. Principal Charles Moore stated that the money should be appropriated as soon as possible because of the coming football season.

han as accompanist at all classes with Miss Audrey Stevens.

Jack Vincent, boxing instructor and former welterweight champion of Missouri, will make daily visits during the week to the different playgrounds to teach the fundamentals of the art to youngsters and to give pointers to the more advanced boxers.

The Albany Women's Gym Club will start its Fall weekly meetings beginning Wednesday evening September 7, from 7-10 p. m. Edwin S. Howell, supervisor of the recreation department, acts as instructor at these sessions, aided by women members of his department.

William Anderson, also a member of the department, acts as instructor for the weekly golf instruction held on Tuesday mornings from 9:30-11:30 a. m., at University Park.

John Cox Says Coroner Needs "Experience"

Pledged to economy, efficiency and the appreciation of human needs, John J. Cox, candidate for Coroner of Alameda County, this week came forward with a platform, stating that he bases his eligibility for the office on "Experience, not experiments."

Pointing to the record of retiring Coroner Miller, supporters of Cox feel that a mortician should be placed in a mortician's job in order that the type of service administered by the former Coroner might be repeated.

Among other moves planned by Cox should he be elected to the office of Coroner, is the construction of a public morgue for Alameda County, advocated by the former Coroner.

Cox, born and educated in Oakland, is the father of seven children. As a licensed mortician of the State of California, he has been 20 years in his present profession.

Demo Council In Appeal to Albany Voters

The Democratic Coordinating Council of Berkeley and Albany, composed of all the Democratic Clubs in the 10th Assembly District, today issued the following appeal to the voters of Albany:

"From the Atlantic seaboard to California the Democratic Party is being welded into a mighty organization for the consummation of the task of making America a better place in which to live. The rank and file of that organization are the thousands of County Central Committeemen throughout the land whose untiring and unceasing support alone can make possible the triumph of the program inaugurated by Franklin Delano Roosevelt. On next Tuesday, August 30, the voters of the 10th Assembly District will vote for five County Central Committeemen to represent them the next two years in the councils of the Democratic Party. It is essential that the voters elect men who do not merely render lip service on election day to the President's humanitarian and liberal program, but who have demonstrated their loyalty and sincerity by deeds over a period of years.

"The Democratic Coordinating Council urges the Democrats of the 10th Assembly District to elect such able and representative Democrats as Stanley Bolton, Fred G. Clute, Charles Ray Garwood, Lloyd C. Hare, and John Kirby for County Central Committee."

Civic Committees Lend Support to Congressman Tolan

Pointing to his legislative record as beneficial to citizens in all walks of life, prominent business, labor, and industrial groups of the seventh congressional district today announced their whole-hearted support of Congressman John H. Tolan for re-election.

Among the groups actively campaigning for Tolan's return to Congress on a non-partisan basis are: Italian-American Federation; American Federation of Labor Political League; Retail Merchants' Association of California; Independent Cigar Dealers; Lafayette Club; Slavonic-American Alliances; and many other powerful business and civic organizations.

Riley Supported By Former Judge

Volunteers from every walk in life have flocked to the support of State Controller Harry B. Riley who is seeking to be retained as chief fiscal officer of the State, said Charles A. Shurtleff beloved ex-Supreme Court Justice of California, in San Francisco, as the primary election draws near.

"Mr. Riley's long and honorable career as a public servant has brought to his campaign leading bankers, insurance men, real estate heads, civic leaders, labor people, farmers, mechanics, small business men, professional leaders and representatives from almost every type of endeavor," continued Justice Shurtleff.

The duties of the State Controller's office require a man with executive ability and experience. Mr. Riley collects the gasoline, transportation license, insurance, petroleum and beverage taxes. He administers the inheritance tax, collecting taxes aggregating $60,000,000 a fiscal year.

How high in the scale birds can sing, and whether they hear their own notes, will be investigated at Cornell University.

Fairbanks, Irene Dunne, Close at Cerrito Theatre

The mad, whirlwind comedy, "Joy of Living", with Irene Dunne and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and the exciting melodrama of gangsters in high society with Chester Morris, "Law of the Underworld," close tonight at the Cerrito Theatre. In conjunction with this program tonight, Ten-O-Win with a $185 jack-pot is also added.

Opening tomorrow, for a three-day engagement, is another important program which is making this house famous, the Ritz Bos. In their latest laugh riot, "Kentucky Moonshine," and Fred MacMurray, heading a distinguished cast of fun-makers, in "Cocoanut Grove." Loaded with moonshine and gags the Ritz Bros turn hill-billies and go off on another of their wild rampages that will 'ave you rolling in the aisles, it is reported. Fred MacMurray, Harriet Hilliard, Ben Blue and the Yacht Club Boys comprise a troupe of musicians that head for Hollywood in a trailer. Their amusing antics while enroute and their ultimate arrival in Hollywood where they finally make good, is declared to be grand entertainment.

In addition to these two important features, the third chapter of "Wild Bill Hickok" is added to the program both in the evening and at the kiddies matinee at 1:30, completing a big three unit show. On Sunday night, Ten-O-Win is again included in the program.

Muller Advocated For Re-Election

The many outstanding educators of Alameda County are strongly advocating the re-election of Edgar E. Muller for the office of Superintendent of Schools. His many sponsors claim that:

"County Superintendent of Schools Edgar E. Muller, become definitely a strong link in the educational system of Alameda County. We have called upon his office in the County Court House and we have no hesitation in saying straight-forwardly that his office is in very capable hands.

"We wish to state that the voters would make no mistake in electing Mr. Muller to succeed himself at the primaries. He is an educator whose services as principal in the Oakland High school district has been outstanding. He is a developer of youth along with educational and athletic lines and has proved himself every inch a school business administrator.

"In order to select the best available educator and administrator for this position, when the vacancy occurred several months ago, the Board of Supervisors called in the outstanding and leading educators of Alameda county. These men unanimously recommended Mr. Muller for appointment.

"The taxpayers in Alameda county will make no mistake in retaining this type of leadership for the school system."

The manner and extent to which physical characteristics are inherited by children will be dramatically demonstrated to visitors at the 1939 World's Fair of the West on Treasure Island.

Dexter Candidate To Succeed Self

Walter F. Dexter, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, former school teacher and for ten years president of Whittier College, is a candidate to succeed himself as State Superintendent.

Dr. Dexter, one of the west's educational leaders, has been filling this office for the past two years. His broad interest in public affairs, aside from the educational field, was recognized when he was elected president of Lions International at their recent world convention in Oakland.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction is a non-partisan office, in which politics has no place. Teachers, administrators, parents and the public generally expect sound, constructive and experienced educational leadership in their state superintendent. Dr. Dexter, during his incumbency, has demonstrated these qualities to a high degree.

Cook Said Only
Registered Demo
In Assembly Race

"For the first time in many years the Democrats of the 19th Assembly District are in a position where they are assured of nominating a registered Democrat for the office of Assemblyman," was the statement issued today by the Democratic Coordinating Council of Berkeley and Albany through its chairman, Lloyd C. Hare of Albany.

"Because of the efforts of the

LYLE E. COOK

Council and its member clubs," continued Hare, "Lyle E. Cook is the only registered Democratic candidate for the Assembly in the 19th District, which includes Berkeley north of Dwight Way and all of the city of Albany. The other name which will appear upon the ballot is that of a Republican seeking to win the Democratic nomination.

"Cook is a Berkeley attorney. He is the only candidate for the office who both lives and conducts his business in Berkeley and, if elected, will be easily accessible to the citizens of his district. He will give Albany and Berkeley his undivided loyalty.

Factory Test
Unit Displayed
At Jim, Pete's

If your car actually had a "motor of glass" the exact condition of all inner parts would not be as clearly revealed as they are by the new scientific motor testing unit now in use at Jim and Pete's Texaco Service, 1524 Solano Avenue.

A motor analyzing clinic in itself, the new machine revolutionizes motor testing and servicing, ending all guesswork and permits absolute accurate diagnosis of every motor trouble.

Operated by a factory expert, the tester "spots" any abnormality in your motor that may be preventing you from enjoying the best performance in your car. It will prepare your motor for the months of hard winter driving ahead, and at the same time it may save you money you have been spending every day for which you have received no value.

Jim and Pete invite you to come in and inspect their new addition to their service station at 1524 Solano Avenue.

ARE THEY FAIR?

JOBS OF OVER HUNDRED CONTRACTORS HELD FOR RANSOM

Last June, the Painting and Decorating Contractors Association of Alameda County placed in effect an agreement stating that "Contractors who employ one man or more will not be permitted to work as painters on a contracted job unless membership in the association is first obtained."

Members of the Independent Painting Contractors of Alameda and Contra Costa Counties term this move ILLEGAL and consider this method of organizing employers NOTHING MORE THAN A RACKET.

Organizing methods adopted by this union demand that not only should employers hire union men, but also force employers, under threat of strike, to join associations.

Today, here in Albany, threat of such a strike hung over the head of one employer with other contractors throughout both counties faced by a similar situation.

The contractors are not greatly concerned over the technical details of union organization. But they do stand for EQUAL RIGHTS and believe that each contractor should be permitted to conduct his business as he sees fit so long as he works under a State License and is willing to employ union labor.

REMEMBER—It has never been declared constitutional that any organization shall have the power to regulate the manner in which a business shall be conducted.

The Independent Contractors do not ask paternalism—We ask your opinion and aid as customers and citizens, in a matter of common decency and common sense. Communications may be directed to R. BATES, Secretary, No. 6, Lennox Road, Berkeley.

Tennis Tourney Goes Into Second Week of Play

With the first and second round matches out of the way, the Albany City Tennis Tournament goes into the third round this Saturday and Sunday.

A heavy schedule for Saturday afternoon will be featured by several interesting matches. Stan Hawkins, Albany High ace, will face Ed Christian whose experience and steady stroking may prove too much for the local boy. E. Lusher and Marion Wildy, two fine players will also match strokes during the afternoon.

Sunday, fewer matches are scheduled with the features at one and two p. m. At one Ray Bushnell, Albany's star, who is seeded number 1, should meet the winner of the Lusher-Wildy match. At two the winner of the Christian-Hawkins match will play the winner of the Daum-Vic Woods match. Christian and Woods are favored and should put on a brilliant show.

Mrs. Sartain Given Surprise Party by Aux.

With 19 members of the Legion Post No. 292 Auxiliary present, Mrs. Anna Sartain, outgoing president of the Auxiliary was surprised last Friday evening when officers and committee chairmen held a party in her honor at the home of Mrs. Zella Lindh, Washington Street.

Commemorating her work in the Auxiliary, members presented her with a lovely tablecloth, with Mrs. Amelia Cook officiating in the ceremony by reading a poem dedicated to Mrs. Sartain, containing the names of her fellow officers and members.

The evening was spent playing peanut butter, with a light refreshment course being served at the close.

The Misses Margaret, Isobel, and Josephine Ochoa, of Santa Fe Avenue, returned this week from a two-months tour of Mexico. Among cities visited in the neighboring nation were Guadalajara, Mexico City, Vera Cruz and Pasto.

Dig Two One-Half Miles in Pacific

Scientists recently penetrated one of the world's few remaining frontiers by delving into the Pacific ocean where the bottom is two and one-half miles below the surface, to obtain a sample of the sea floor. An especially devised coring machine mounted on the E. W. Scripps, the oceanographic research vessel of the University of California's Scripps Institution of Oceanography, was used to obtain a core 8 feet 5 inches in length representing a vertical section of over 11 feet into the red clay which covers much of the deep Pacific.

Dr. F. P. Shepard, marine geologist, in charge of the scientific work on this voyage of the vessel, sailed out about 300 miles from the coast to obtain this core, which is the longest ever obtained from any part of the Pacific ocean.

"Two years ago, Dr. C. S. Pigot obtained long cores from the deep Atlantic ocean which showed layers that are supposed to represent the entire glacial period, a matter of a million years," stated Dr. Shepard. "It may be that at least an equal length of time is represented in the core obtained from the red clay. However, the layering described from the Pigot cores do not appear in the preliminary examinations of this red clay core from the Pacific."

"For the most part the material appears to be uniform except for slight changes in color along the length. However, chemical examination and study of the microscopic fossil animals in the core may show the influence of cold and warm periods during the great Ice Age."

Red Cross Gives Home Hygiene Course

The Red Cross course in home hygiene and care of the sick will commence its fall classes on Monday, August 29, at 7:30 p. m., at Red Cross headquarters, 2116 Allston Way, it has been announced. Any adult woman interested in personal and community health is eligible to enroll.

"Home Hygiene is a part of the educational program of the American Red Cross," stated C. W. Whitney, chairman of the Berkeley Chapter.

"This course deals with personal and community health, stressing practical demonstration and practice; it teaches one how to recognize symptoms of illness, how to combat them, how to care for those who are ill, and how to keep well."

John J. Cox Backed by Hosts of Friends

In announcing his candidacy for Coroner of Alameda County, John J. Cox points to his record of twenty years experience as a funeral director.

Backed by over two-thirds of the funeral directors of the county, who feel that he is eminently qualified for this important office, and who are deeply concerned regarding this office, together with a host of friends who are active in his behalf.

Mr. Cox comes from a pioneer Oakland family, having been born and raised in our community. He is married, and the father of seven children. This is his first venture into the field of politics, but he has been active in various fraternal and civic organizations for many years.

J. A. Grennan Gains in Leadership

John A. Grennan is our choice for the office of District Attorney of Alameda County.

Known as a fighting candidate, John A. Grennan strikes straight from the shoulder, and his well-known honesty, ability and fearlessness make him best qualified to secure justice for all who come into contact with the District Attorney's office.

Your vote for John A. Grennan for this non-partisan office, will correct a palpable injustice, and assure impartiality in the enforcement of the law at all times.

The Attorney General of California will not have to take charge in Alameda County if your vote is cast for John A. Grennan for District Attorney on next Tuesday.

Town of Hatfield For Him

Hatfield, Siskiyou County, Aug. 25.—The all-time high of enthusiastic excitement swept the Hatfield-for-Governor headquarters today when a voice from somewhere in Siskiyou County announced by phone:

"It'll be unanimous!"

"For whom?" gasped a committeeman.

"Hatfield!"

"Where?"

"Hatfield!"

"I asked WHERE?"

"I told you where—Hatfield. It's all Hatfield for Hatfield!"

It simmered down that Roy Drake, unofficial mayor of the town of Hatfield, polled the registered voters and found them unanimously for Hatfield.

There are 14 of them.

"It isn't the number," the committeeman commented firmly; "it's the principle of the thing."

G-Men to Help Rid S. F. Fair Of Criminals

With G-men, state, county and city peace officers cooperating, criminals who hope to "work the World's Fair of the West face the greatest combination of organized police protection the nation has ever seen.

Creation of the seven-county police network for the Exposition is the culmination of 10 years' work by police of the San Francisco Bay Area, who have been perfecting increasingly efficient methods of cooperation since formation of the Peace Officers Association of the Bay Counties.

World's Fair protecting will be a highly amplified outgrowth of that organization, and additionally effective because of the long experience in mutual police work by Northern California officers.

Wiping out city and county boundary lines, and consequent red tape, a plain clothes squad under command of Capt. Charles Dullea of San Francisco will be composed of officers from each area around the East Bay. This will assure complete familiarity with conditions wherever it may be necessary to track down criminals seeking to prey upon Exposition visitors.

Life for the prisoners on Alcatraz Island grows more interesting daily as they watch construction of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay, about two miles distant.

SCHOOL DAYS BEGIN!

Schoolbells again ring out across California! To harried mothers their chime is glad tidings, but to care-free youngsters their sound spells the end of easy-going hours filled with adventurous fun.

Youth is oftentimes a rebel, but seldom more so than when he kicks his heels against that first plunge into the three R's.

Yet the healthy discipline of the classroom, new playmates, and new tasks to master in readin', writin', and 'rithmetic, help to tame the rebellious spirits speedily—until another summer, and another call to the classroom rolls around!

Every school-going youngster, whether he or she knows it or not, is a partner in a serious and significant business. In a few years' time, he and his classmates will be running this state and this nation of ours, helping shape and direct the destiny of America, economically, politically, and socially.

Perhaps they'll be able to make their fathers and grandfathers look like bungling amateurs at the job of running business and government. They may achieve miracles in the field of medical science that have been lying right under this generation's nose, waiting to be discovered. They may erect cities with more sunlight and clean air, and with less noise and smoky skies.

It all depends. The job of building character and brains, and stimulating imagination and wholesome skepticism, is a mutual one where neither parents, schools, or teachers, dare safely shirk their equal obligations to the youth of today—the makers of tomorrow's world.

That high task again resumes this month as schoolbells ring out and an army of young Californians, one million strong, answers its call!

THE BIG TOP

America without a circus is like America without skyscrapers, mince pie, or corn bread. It just isn't natural.

But natural or not, it's the truth. Of the six traveling circuses which started out with high hopes and piping calliopes this Spring, all but two had fallen by the wayside by mid-June. The others carried on, but not for long. The other day the biggest of them all, the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey troupe, folded up its tent for the season.

But if the skeptics think the excited cry of "Hey, Skinny, the circus is here!" will never ring out again, they are probably mistaken. Too many kids of all ages love the circus to let it depart forever. And the labor squabble which closed down "the biggest show on earth" need not recur. It can teach a lesson. If employers feel they must cut wages, as they did in this case, and workers feel they can't afford to take less, let them sit down and discuss the issue peaceably FIRST, instead of resorting to methods which multiply ill-will on both sides to the breaking point.

This is what California is seeking to bring about with her proposed employment relations act, on the principle that three-ringed circuses should be staged by circuses, not by embattled workers and employers.

If labor trouble helped drive the circuses off the road this year, labor peace can help put them back on it. That's what the kids of America want to see!

Be sure to vote in the primaries Tuesday, August 30.
